INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors and Stockholder of
JAE Investments, Inc.
Parkland, Florida

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of JAE Investments, Inc. as of December 31, 2007 and the related statement of operations, cash flows, and statements of changes in stockholder's equity for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial condition of JAE Investments, Inc. as of December 31, 2007 and the results of its operations and the related statement of income and accumulated deficit, cash flows, and statements of changes in stockholder's equity for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The Company was incorporated on December 5, 1996 in the State of Florida. The Company has registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. as a broker/dealer. Consequently, its record keeping is in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by these agencies.

B.)      Cash Equivalents

For purposes of reporting cash flows, and cash and cash equivalents includes money market accounts and certificated of deposits and any highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of six months or less.

C.)      Organization Costs

Organization cost are amortized over sixty months.

D.)      Income Taxes

The Company has made an election to be treated as an S Corporation under the Federal Income tax laws. Accordingly, the income of the Company is taxed directly to its stockholder. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been made in the financial statements.

E.)      Management Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at December 31, 2006 and revenues and expenses for the year then ended. The actual outcome of the estimates could differ from the estimates made in the preparation of the financial statements.

F.)      Revenue Recognition

The Company is on the accrual basis of accounting. Commencing in December 2006, the Company, due to the materiality of commissions, has recognized commission income in the month earned, rather than the in the period received.

JAE Investments, Inc.
Parkland, Florida

We have examined the financial statements of JAE Investments, Inc. as of December 31, 2007 and have issued our report there on dated February 25, 2008. As part of our examination, we reviewed and tested the system of internal accounting control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards and by Rule 17a-5 contemplates that the scope of the review and tests should be sufficient to provide reasonable assurance that any material weakness existing at the date of our examination would be disclosed. Under these standards and that Rule the purposes of such evaluation are to establish a basis for reliance thereon in determining the nature, timing, and extend if other auditing procedures that are necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements and to provide a basis for reporting material weaknesses internal accounting control.

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance as to the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognized that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognized tat the evaluation of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgements by management.

There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal accounting control. In the performance of most control procedures, errors can result from misunderstanding of instructions, mistakes of judgement, carelessness, or other personal factors.

Control procedures whose effectiveness depends upon segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be circumvented intentionally by management with respect to the estimates and judgements required in the preparation of financial statements. Further, projection of any evaluation of internal accounting control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, and that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control for the period commencing January 1, 2007 to December 31, 2007, was made for the purposes set forth in the first paragraph above and would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system which may have existed during the period under review, disclosed no weaknesses that I believe to be material.
